

Rachel and Jake Compaan in Yamaranguila, Honduras

We are only a few weeks away from the end of the school year here in Yamaranguila and things have been busy but a lot of fun, as we get closer to summer vacation.

This spring has been busy with preparation and participation in SAG and mini SAG for our 3rd through 7th graders. During the last week of April we traveled with our 6th and 7th graders for a week-long gathering with all of the secondary students of the Abundant Life School system (almost 600 students in all!). Our students participated in a variety of events such as volleyball, soccer, cross-country, modeling clay sculpture, cooking, spelling bee, Bible trivia and Sudoku. They were some of the youngest students there but ended up winning a few medals and had a great attitude about participating in the events. For the 3rd-6th graders we have a similar event, but on a smaller scale in the city of Gracias, competing against the schools in our area. The students from 3rd and 4th went a few weeks ago and did a fabulous job, and the 5th and 6th graders have their version of the event on the 1st of June, which we have begun preparing for during the school day.

We are very excited that the construction of our multipurpose court is underway! Right now the workers are starting on the foundation and we are hoping that when the group from Harderwyk comes in June, they will be able to help with pouring the cement. This space will be amazing because it will allow our students to have space to practice new sports like volleyball and basketball, and will also allow for a place for them to play during recess and PE when the soccer field gets muddy during rainy season.

Jake and I continue to help out as much as possible at Talitha Cumi. Our latest undertaking has been training for a 10k running race in San Pedro Sula at the end of June. We have tried to run with a group of the girls most afternoons and will go to San Pedro the night before the race to stay in a hotel and swim at their pool (which is probably why so many of the girls wanted to participate in the first place ☺). I still have a group of the older girls over on Sunday mornings as well to do Bible study and hang out.

Thank you so much for your continued prayers and support. We are so thankful for the community of friends and family that we know are praying for us and our work here.
